1. Religion serves as a fundamental requirement for humans, and it emphasizes the concept of human freedom. In addition, it functions as a remedy for anxiety and serves as a means to attain happiness through pleasing Allah.
2. The individual began to experience feelings of depression and began to ponder about the purpose of life and the existence of Allah. They also became easily agitated, forgetful, anxious, and frustrated about various aspects of their life.
3. Islam is on the rise and it is believed that modernity is a natural phenomenon that we must go through. Islam guides us in adapting to modern ways and strengthens our beliefs. Additionally, it encourages us to pray regularly and provides us with inspiration and motivation to tap into our full potential.
